Class A shareholders' right to vote at general meetings

An application has been made to the court by a shareholder for orders relating to a declaration that the dividend on Class A shares is in arrears and therefore the Class A shareholders are entitled to vote at general meetings until the dividend is no longer in arrears.

As announced on 1 December 2008 the company's legal advice is the Class A dividend is not in arrears and therefore Class A shareholders are not entitled to vote at general meetings of ordinary shareholders.

Yours faithfully,
